A MESSAGE FROM COACH KAMRATH:

Head Varsity Coach

Greetings Fullerton High School basketball families, alumni, and community.

I want to start by thanking our families and everyone in our community who supported our student athletes throughout a very challenging 2020-2021 school year and season. Fortunately we were able to play an 18 game season this past spring. Our program took a big step in the right direction this past season. After a slow start, we finished 5-5 (4th place) in the very competitive freeway league, including a win against a very successful Sonora program. This is the highest finish for our program since 2007. The culture change our program is going through can be attributed to the commitments that our players have made to each other, the game, and pride they take in playing for FUHS. I especially want to thank the class of 2021 for their contributions to this program and building process. They have helped set the tone for returning and future players.

Our players were very fortunate to have the opportunity to play this past season in our brand new beautiful facility. Each morning I arrive on campus I can't wait to step into our gym for practice in the afternoon. I'm looking forward to all the memories we will create within those four walls.

The 2021-2022 basketball season is approaching fast. Be on the watch for information, apparel, and game schedules. I am excited about what the future holds for Fullerton High School Basketball.

Yours in Tribe Hoops,
Erik Kamrath

Coaching Staff Updates

Tribe Hoops is excited to welcome Troy Fregoso as the new Frosh/Soph coach for the 2021-2022 season. Meet Coach Fregoso:

Troy Fregoso was born in Anaheim but raised in Fullerton. He recently graduated from Fullerton Union High School and played basketball all four years. He will be attending Fullerton College majoring in Economics with thoughts of becoming a teacher. This will be Troy's first year of coaching and he is very excited. Troy always has the game on his mind and can't wait to prove himself as a great coach.

Troy will be a student as mentioned before and enjoys cooking, playing chess and being around friends and family. Words can't describe how eager he is to run practice and he is thankful for how kind the other coaches have been to him through the start of his career.

Coach Jones has moved up to the assistant varsity coaching position for the 2021-2022. He has spent the last two seasons as the freshmen coach.

Coach Perretta will now be taking over as the freshmen coach after running the Frosh/Soph team last season.

Coach Rhodes will remain as the JV coach in his second year.

A Message from the Program

Our mission in the Fullerton Boys Basketball Program is to create an environment that will allow our student athletes to grow as a team, as players, and most importantly as people. Success on and off the floor is a result of establishing a mentality that we can achieve more together if we use our individual talents to help one another.
